

The ACMT Forum

- The American College of Medical Toxicology (ACMT) is a non-profit national medical organization whose mission is to advance quality care of poisoned patients and public health through physicians who specialize in consultative, emergency, environmental, forensic, and occupational toxicology.
- The American College of Medical Toxicology has a moderated internet discussion site known as the ACMT Forum.
- The ACMT Forum has been successful over the past 12 years in bringing together toxicologists from a number of organizations with an interest in the clinical care of poison patients.
- The purpose of ACMT Forum is to allow for the rapid exchange of information that is of interest to toxicologists. This might include but is not limited to scientific questions, clinical questions, news, and comments regarding recently published articles.
- Forum membership is free and limited to members of medical, scientific, and governmental organizations with an interest in Toxicology.
- Please click here for an example of a recent ACMT Forum posting.
- To join the ACMT forum, click here to complete the online application.
- We welcome questions about the ACMT Forum. Please address all questions to info@acmt.net or you may call our office at 623-533-6340.

Click here to join the ACMT Forum